WEST COAST HEBRIDEAN LANGOUSTINES

Macduff's wild-caught Hebridean Langoustines come from the pristine, rich waters of the Outer Hebrides, off the west coast of Scotland, where the warm flowing Gulf Stream meets the cool currents of the Arctic and Greenland Sea.

Here, fishing boats depart for short one-to-two day trips, ensuring only the freshest product is landed and hand-packed by our dedicated team, resulting in rich, vibrant-orange langoustines with a firm texture and uniquely sweet delicate flavour.
